

Rationale of project1

Yi Chen yc2329

This website is intended for people who raise or want to raise a rabbit, and rabbit lovers. It mainly posts many photos of my bunny as well as some knowledge of raising a rabbit. The background color is gray, the color scheme is black, gray and white. There are navigation bars on the top and foot links on the bottom. The main index are in the middle of the page, which makes visitors convenient to navigate. The whole web page is neat and tidy with all the pages in the same format. I don't like disorder. I want my audience feel comfortable.

The PHP elements I have used in the project include:

Array: makes it easier to do repeatable things.

Foreach: iterate the array.

Echo

isset()

$_POST["..."]

preg_match("",$...)

PHP form submit

WOW: Content are creative, the bunny images are all created by myself. I use extensive PHP and have a Jscript round-about in the homepage.
